

I've always been a passionate doodler and book-worm. I graduated from Torino's Fine Arts Academy with a Bachelor Fine Arts degree and a MSc in Visual Communication. Studied art, illustration and animation, learning storytelling through pictures. I started working as an in house illustrator and graphic designer. My passion led me to pursue a career as freelance illustrator in 2011. I illustrated many books, puzzles, cards, toys and lots of lovely things; working alongside international clients into developing awesome projects, and also writing for middle grade.
