Hello, I'm Federica a freelance illustrator based in Roma, Italy. I was born in Cortona in the south-eastern of Tuscany. After studying 2d Animation and following several illustration workshops I started working and collaborating remotely as a children's book Illustrator and Character designer. I work with many publishing houses, animation studios and children's museums. I gained experience in illustrating for children's books, school books, illustrations for magazines, creative toys and illustrations for textiles.
