

I am a 2D artist/illustrator and animator currently working on a number of children's illustrations for textbooks and storybooks. After studying animation and mixed media in China, I went on to do my MA in Bournemouth university where I started specializing more in illustration and digital painting. I also worked for Pixomondo where I made storyboards, concepts and animations for companies such as BWM, Audi and Volkswagen. I like bright colours, interesting characters and most of all, storytelling through my art! I hope you like my work and that you may use my skills to make your illustrations come to life!
